

achieve its ends. And all “news” content and commentary in cyberspace, TV, radio or in print media continues to be strictly controlled and manipulated by the communist party.

The Chinese government today is in the business of breaking minds, bodies and hearts. The repression is systematic, pervasive, unrelenting and unnecessary—the people of China love their nation and deserve better treatment. Even heroic persons like Chen Guangcheng, Wei Jingsheng, Rebiya Kadeer, Bishop Su, Harry Wu, and countless others who have demonstrated by their extraordinary perseverance an indomitable will to advance bedrock human rights principles regardless of cost carry the indelible scars of unspeakable mistreatment.

The people who rule China today employ these ugly methods of control to prop up their own political power and increase their personal wealth. China, a great nation, deserves better.

Far too many of us who live in freedom often fail to exert ourselves in a meaningful way to assist prisoners of conscience and their loved ones—in China and elsewhere.

Far too many of us fail to empathize with their plight. Or to see what’s just below the façade of the purported harmonious society.

How can it be that the 2010 Nobel Peace Prize winner Liu Xiaobo remains in prison while his wife Liu Xia is forced to endure the extreme isolation of house arrest and is now reportedly experiencing severe depression?

Perhaps we are uninformed or too busy or prefer to look askance. However, with so much preventable suffering being endured by so many prisoners of conscience and their families in China today, the time has surely come for a more serious and sustained defense of these heroic individuals and their noble causes.

All of us—including the Chinese government—have a duty to protect.

At a hearing that I held several weeks ago, we heard the cries for release and freedom from five remarkable daughters on behalf of their wrongly imprisoned fathers and from a dad on behalf of his unjustly jailed son. We also received expert testimony from a previously incarcerated Christian pastor who cares deeply for the vulnerable and at risk and another human rights activist who was detained in China after an attempt to visit a dissident.

ANNOUNCING RECIPIENTS OF THE 2013 CONGRESSIONAL VETERAN COMMENDATION FOR THE THIRD DISTRICT OF TEXAS

HON. SAM JOHNSON

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, December 16, 2013

Mr. SAM JOHNSON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, it is my privilege to honor fourteen distinguished military veterans, community servants, and American patriots who call the Third District of Texas home. All faithfully answered the call of duty and placed service above self for the sake of our great nation. Each one leaves a legacy to be remembered, for future generations to follow, a legacy of bravery, loyalty, dedication, and sacrifice. For their selfless service, bold leadership, and undying commitment for their neighbor and nation, the following individual has been selected as a recipient of the third annual Congressional Veteran Commendation:

LeRoy Myrben served in the United States Navy from 1955 to 1977. During his 22 years of service, he completed six tours aboard aircraft carriers, three of those tours during the Vietnam War, and in total, served in ten different naval commands. After his many years of active duty, he worked for 27 years as a civilian employee, developing government and corporate programs, such as the design stage of the Blackhawk Helicopter, F-18 Hornet. In 2003, he retired as the Director of National Security Solutions and as the Director of the Coast Guard Program before moving to Frisco, Texas.

Since moving to Texas, he’s been an extremely active leader and servant to the city of Frisco, advocating relentlessly on behalf of veterans and their families. Quickly after moving, he joined the Frisco Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) 8273 post and in one short year became the Post Senior Commander and then later the Post Commander. During his time as Commander, he chaired the Frisco Veterans’ Walk of Honor project to develop a memorial walkway that displays names of veterans on the Memorial in Frisco’s Commons Park. All the while, he continues to be an active Frisco Committee Parade member and has served as Frisco’s Memorial Day Master of Ceremonies for the past three years. As an advisor to Frisco’s Mayor, Maher Maso, he developed and now chairs the Mayor’s Frisco Veterans Advisory Committee, which consists of individuals from all military branches selected to advise the Mayor and City Council Members on issues pertaining to the veterans. Mr. Myrben not only put his life on the line overseas, he continues to sacrifice his time, energy, and efforts every single day at home to ensure that his fellow veterans receive the care, attention, and honor they rightfully deserve.

LeRoy Myrben, let me both thank and congratulate you on your exceptional service to our country and community both past and present. It is my pleasure to award you the 2013 Congressional Veteran Commendation for the Third District of Texas.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. TRENT FRANKS

OF ARIZONA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, December 16, 2013

Mr. FRANKS of Arizona. Mr. Speaker, had I been present, I would have voted “yes” on rollcall No. 641 on H. Res. 441.

HONORING RICHARD “DICK” FREELAND

HON. TODD ROKITA

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, December 16, 2013

Mr. ROKITA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and salute a distinguished Hoosier, Richard “Dick” Freeland, who passed away on October 20, 2013. I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude and appreciation for his leadership and service to the people of Indiana.

Mr. Freeland was a Nevada native and Iowa transplant who later moved his family to Indiana to pursue the American Dream. He started his career as an ironworker in Iowa who worked on Atlas rocket sites throughout the Midwest. In 1967, Mr. Freeland started a part-time job working for Pizza Hut for $1.25 an hour. He eventually worked his way up to store manager, area manager, and part-owner in an Iowa Pizza Hut franchise.

Mr. Freeland moved his wife and young family to Fort Wayne, Indiana, in 1972 and opened their first Pizza Hut franchise. Over the next 40-plus years, the business grew to include 48 Pizza Hut locations in Indiana and Ohio as well as four Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurants. His knowledge and business acumen was so well respected by the corporate office that he was asked to travel to Poland to advise the Pizza Hut team on improving their operations. Soon after, he became a partner in those Pizza Hut and Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurants in Poland and the Czech Republic.

Mr. Freeland sought to hire high-quality employees, train them well and empower them to make decisions for the benefit of themselves, the customer and the business. In his free time, he was involved in local, state and national politics and enjoyed hunting, fishing, traveling, and breeding Arabian horses at Freeland Farms. Mr. Freeland was a member of numerous corporate and charitable organization boards and served as the regional finance chairman of Bush/Quayle campaign in 1992.

Mr. Freeland left his loving wife, Deanna, two children, six grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Mr. Freeland’s legacy demonstrates the promise of hard work and the extraordinary opportunities afforded to the individual by liberty and American free enterprise. Dick’s story should serve as an example to millions of young Americans. Through hard work and perseverance, the American Dream can be realized. There are very few places in the world today where a part time hourly worker, through his own toil and dedication, can not only be promoted to management, but build an empire. And then use his success for the betterment of our nation and his fellow man. Mr. Freeland’s life and story are a testament to the unlimited potential of every individual, our great nation, and America’s bright future. America is quite exceptional indeed.

Rest in peace my friend, and thank you for your example and leadership.

IRAN’S PERSECUTION OF PASTOR ABEDINI WORSENS

HON. CHRISTOPHER H. SMITH

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, December 16, 2013

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, at our full committee hearing on Tuesday, December 10, I asked Secretary of State Kerry whether he had raised Pastor Saeed Abedini’s release during the Iranian nuclear talks. I read him the following advance excerpt of the testimony that Naghme Abedini—wife of Pastor Saeed Abedini who remains imprisoned and subject to torture in Iran—would offer on Thursday, December 12. “While I am thankful
